Husch Blackwell Holds No. 1 Spot on ABA Health Law Section's 2025 Top 10 List

For the fourth consecutive year, Husch Blackwell has been named as the top health law firm nationally by the American Bar Association's (ABA) Health Law Section in its 13th Annual Regional Law Firm Recognition List Top 10. In addition to its No. 1 national ranking, Husch Blackwell also ranked first in the Midwest Region, third in the Southern Region, and fourth in the Northeastern and Western regions.

"Our healthcare team sets the standard for excellence, and this recognition is a testament to Husch Blackwell's unwavering commitment to the industry," said Curt Chase, partner and leader of Husch Blackwell's Healthcare, Life Sciences and Education business unit. "As we further expand our national footprint, our focus remains on anticipating and exceeding our clients' evolving needs. Our goal is clear: to be the first choice for clients across the healthcare sector."

In addition to topping the ABA Health Section's Top 10 List, Husch Blackwell's healthcare team received numerous accolades in 2025, including occupying the top spot in the American Health Law Association's Top Honors listing, which recognizes law firms "that consistently and enthusiastically encourage and sustain their members' and employees' affiliation with AHLA." The firm also earned national rankings from Chambers USA and Legal 500 United States in their healthcare law categories.

David Hilgers and Andy Demetriou have served as ABA Health Law Section past chairs, in addition to Katz. Joe Geraci is currently a council member at large, while Diane Carter, Ellee Cochran, Demetriou, Anna DuBois, Spencer Smith, and Noreen Vergara currently hold various leadership roles within the section.
