Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Buffey Klein, a Dallas-based partner in the firm's Financial Services and Capital Markets group, has contributed a chapter to Thomson Reuters' 2017 edition of Strategic Alternatives for and Against Distressed Businesses. Klein's contribution treats strategic alternatives against the backdrop of Texas state law, including the receivership process and the pros and cons associated with receivership.

Klein represents financial industry clients and institutions in the areas of commercial litigation, commercial loan workouts, out-of-court restructurings, loan documentation and the protection of creditors' rights. She also advises several national clients in connection with workouts and restructurings of troubled loans.

Strategic Alternatives for and Against Distressed Businesses is published by the West Publishing division of Thomson Reuters and, since 2008, is one of the best-selling titles in the West library of legal resources. The volume is the result of an effort of more than 100 leading restructuring professionals from many leading law firms.
