

NEWS RELEASES

PUBLISHED: JANUARY 14, 2009

Service

Labor & Employment

Jason R. Prussman Joins Husch Blackwell Sanders

Husch Blackwell Sanders welcomes Jason R. Prussman to the firm's Denver, office as an associate in the Litigation group. He will focus his practice in Labor & Employment.

Prussman previously worked as a Research Analyst at the Institute for the Advancement of the American Legal System at the University of Denver. While there, he helped design and conduct extensive research on various issues essential to the Institute's mission to improve the U.S. civil justice system. Prior to working for the University of Denver, he practiced law as an associate at Holme Roberts & Owen LLP in Denver. He focused his practice on civil litigation cases.

Prussman earned his J.D. (2003) from the University of Colorado School of Law, where he served as Casenote & Comment Editor of the University of Colorado Law Review. He earned his B.A. (1996), cum laude, from Colorado State University.