Kirstin Salzman Recognized by Ingram's as Top Rainmaker

Ingram's Magazine has listed Husch Blackwell partner Kirstin Salzman among the top female rainmakers in the Kansas City metropolitan area. Published in the November 2019 edition of Ingram's, the Rainmakers list recognizes “top-performing female lawyers.”

Salzman leads Husch Blackwell's Corporate, M&A and Securities practice group and routinely advises large public and private businesses on corporate transactions. Recent notable transactions include AMC Entertainment's strategic partnership and investment in virtual reality cinema, as well as AMC's purchase earlier this year of Cinetopia, an Oregon-based luxury cinema chain. She also represents strategic and financial buyers in healthcare transactions involving businesses across the entire spectrum of care, from hospitals and pharmacies to post-acute care clinics and healthcare technology providers. Salzman is a member of the firm's Healthcare, Life Sciences & Education industry team.

Salzman is highly regarded by industry peers and observers. She has been ranked as a Notable Practitioner by the International Financial Law Review (IFLR 1000) in 2018 and 2019 and is listed in The Best Lawyers in America directory.
