Lorinda Holloway Named as Ally on Lawyers of Color 2020 Power List

Lorinda Holloway, managing partner of Husch Blackwell's Austin office, has been recognized as a member of the Lawyers of Color Power List 2020.

The Power List recognizes the most influential minority attorneys and allies in the nation. Included on the list are Fortune 1000 general counsel and law school deans, as well as legal media and nonprofit leaders. Additionally, the largest 350 law firms were surveyed and provided Lawyers of Color with the names of their attorneys of color who were either managing partners or management committee members.

Holloway was named as an Ally on the 2020 Power List. She was nominated for the award by Rita Holmes-Bobo, Husch Blackwell's Director of Diversity and Inclusion. "Lorinda has long demonstrated strong allyship for Husch Blackwell's diversity and inclusion efforts," said Holmes-Bobo. "Additionally, under her leadership, our Austin office has great representation of diversity among its ranks of attorneys, a fact that's been recognized multiple times with an "A" on the Austin Law Firm Diversity Scorecard."
