

NEWS RELEASES

PUBLISHED: JULY 23, 2020

Services

Employment Class &
Collective Actions

Employment
Litigation Defense

HR Consultation &
Training

Human Trafficking
Compliance

Labor & Employment

Non-Competes &
Restrictive Covenants

Workplace Safety &
Health

Husch Blackwell's Anderson Named Denver Bar Association 2020 Pro Bono Star

Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Sonia Ramirez Anderson has been named a 2020 Pro Bono Star by the Denver Bar Association.

Anderson, an associate in the firm's Denver office, has donated hundreds of pro bono hours to the Denver community since 2016, representing local nonprofits and indigent clients. At Husch Blackwell, Anderson focuses her practice on helping companies navigate various employment related issues.

Anderson is Vice President of Committees for the Colorado Hispanic Bar Association (CBHA). In 2019, she was recognized as a "Promising Start" by the University of Colorado School of Law.

Listen to hear what pro bono means to Sonia: