Law360: Labor And Employment Changes Ahead For Gov't Contractors

Michael Schrier examines recent appointments and Executive Orders by President Biden, and the workplace effect they might have on government contractors. The full article, Labor And Employment Changes Ahead For Gov't Contractors, is an exercise in "what is possible" from publicly available information, and not a prediction based on nonpublic or insider information. You'll gain insights on the following:

Federal contractor minimum wage increase

Nondisplacement of qualified workers

Project labor agreements

Davis-Bacon Act and Service Contract Act enforcement

Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP)

OSHA COVID-19 enforcement

A return of Fair Pay and Safe Workplaces regulations
