Missouri Lawyers Media Names Gooch and Hanson to POWER List for Education Law

Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Missouri Lawyers Media has named Ginger K. Gooch and Hayley E. Hanson to its 2021 POWER list for Education Law.

Hanson, based in the firm's Kansas City office, represents clients ranging from K-12 school districts to major research institutions. She helps guide schools through the regulatory environment and the potential for litigation on issues ranging from social media to Greek life. She also is a nationally recognized speaker for leading industry organizations.

Gooch is based in Husch Blackwell's Springfield office. Her practice includes representation of public and private educational institutions from pre-kindergarten to higher education, on matters ranging from employment issues to construction disputes.

The full Missouri Lawyers Media POWER list, which profiles the state's most powerful attorneys in education law, can be accessed at Missouri Lawyers Media POWER List - Education Law (log-in required).
