Hilary Bricken Discusses Move to Husch Blackwell with Law360

Hilary Bricken recently spoke with Law360 to discuss her transition to Husch Blackwell and the factors that make the firm stand out.

Bricken said Husch Blackwell appealed to her because the firm is industry-focused. She was attracted to Husch Blackwell's Food Systems industry team, in addition to the Healthcare and Life Sciences industry group.

"I wanted a law firm with a national platform that could offer a full suite of legal services for my national and international clients, large and small," Bricken told Law360. "I think joining Husch Blackwell will improve my skills as a lawyer and will help my clients grow and complete even more sophisticated business initiatives within their industries."
