OVERVIEW

Leah is a seasoned litigation paralegal who supports attorneys and clients through all phases of complex litigation, from initial case development through trial and appeal. With more than two decades of experience, she brings a deep understanding of the procedural and strategic demands of high-stakes matters.

Leah provides comprehensive support across a range of litigation areas, including real estate, employment, contract disputes, appellate, intellectual property, and multi-million dollar cases for Fortune 500 clients. She is experienced in state and federal courts, as well as proceedings before the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the EEOC, and in multi-district litigation. She plays a key role in managing case materials, coordinating workflows, and ensuring matters progress efficiently at every stage.

Attorneys and clients value Leah for her attention to detail, strong organizational skills, and collaborative approach. She is adept at evaluating complex situations and developing practical solutions, bringing flexibility and precision to the evolving demands of litigation. Her proactive mindset and ability to anticipate challenges make her a trusted contributor on litigation teams.
