OVERVIEW

Danielle is a detail-oriented paralegal dedicated to providing comprehensive case management and compassionate client support throughout commercial and employment litigation.

Danielle is committed to helping clients navigate challenging commercial and employment disputes with professionalism, compassion, and attention to detail. She strives to provide responsive, organized support while keeping them informed and supported throughout the litigation process.

Danielle assists attorneys through all phases of litigation, including case management, discovery and e-discovery, document collection and production, legal research and investigation, and the preparation of pleadings, affidavits, and other related papers. Her organized, detail-oriented approach and dedication to accuracy help ensure each case is handled efficiently and thoroughly.

Above all, Danielle believes that exceptional client service is just as important as strong legal support. By maintaining open communication and treating every client with respect and empathy, she helps create a positive experience during what can often be a stressful time. Whether assisting behind the scenes or serving as a point of contact for clients, Danielle is proud to contribute to the firm's mission of providing skilled, compassionate support in commercial and employment litigation matters.
