OVERVIEW

Gary is known for using his depth of experience to bring practical solutions to the table.

Early in his career, Gary was drawn to the complexity of the Bankruptcy Code. He clerked for The Hon. Dennis J. Stewart, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Western District of Missouri, at a time when bankruptcy laws had just undergone dramatic change. Today, Gary draws on his decades of experience in bankruptcy, insolvency, finance and business litigation to ensure the best possible outcomes for clients.

As national and regional insolvency counsel, Gary represents secured lenders, landlords, lessors, preference defendants, buyers in 363 sales and creditors committees in commercial financial restructurings and bankruptcies. He serves as special insolvency counsel for a number of bank clients. In addition, he has served as a court-appointed bankruptcy examiner and a Chapter 11 responsible person of a large restaurant group.

Known for his transparency and good communication, Gary coordinated development of the firm's HB Central case management system. This tool allows clients to more cost-effectively manage their legal cases through extranet access to shared private files and reports.

Unsecured Creditors Receive Exceptional Payment in Chapter 11 Case

Gary successfully represented the unsecured creditors committee in the Farmland Industries Inc. Chapter 11 bankruptcy case, one of the 20 largest bankruptcy cases in the world at the time. Scheduled debt in the case was $1.9 billion, and the ultimate payment to the unsecured creditors was more than 100 percent of the allowed unsecured claims. This result is exceptional in a case of this size.
