OVERVIEW

Peter’s skills and experience help overcome the obstacles that litigation presents.

With 15 years of experience as a paralegal, attorneys and clients trust Peter to assist in facilitating all phases of complex litigation. He understands the challenges that litigation presents and enjoys working with clients to explain the process and move matters forward.

In investigation and discovery, Peter prides himself on finding the small facts clients need within large volumes of medical and business records. He conducts background eDiscovery research to locate witnesses and aid in more efficient formal discovery. Peter also prepares documents such as discovery responses, deposition notices, subpoenas, exhibits and summaries.

Peter concentrates in the areas of business litigation, insurance defense and personal injury litigation at the state, federal and appellate court levels. He is particularly experienced in civil rights defense matters.
