CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

KANSAS CITY, MO

PHONE: 816.983.8881

EMAIL: BRET.CHAPMAN@HUSCHBLACKWELL.COM

OVERVIEW

As Chief Operating Officer, Bret ensures the highest level possible of customer service, security, quality and attention to detail for clients.

Bret plays a key role in leading daily operations of many of the firm's administrative functions. He is ultimately responsible for several of the firm's administrative teams, including information technology, litigation technology, information governance, online research, human resources, records, office administration and facilities management. Collaborating with Bret, these teams ensure that daily service delivery is standardized at optimal levels and that the firm continues to invest in advanced technologies going forward.

Clients appreciate Bret's strong technical background. He has more than 20 years of management and consulting experience at large law firms and corporate legal departments, including a decade where he served as Husch Blackwell's Chief Information Officer. He understands how the firm's people, process and technology can most effectively benefit clients.
