OVERVIEW

Marcie has comprehensive experience assisting attorneys as they plan and administer sophisticated trusts, wills, and estates.

Marcie is known for her personal connection with clients, reflective of the boutique legal and financial firms where she coordinated planning for high-net-worth individuals before joining Husch Blackwell's Private Wealth team. Marcie also has experience as a Trust Officer at a global investment bank and financial services holding company, where she managed a book of 200+ complex trust, guardianship, investment management and agency accounts. Marcie currently assists clients and legal teams with:

- Document review
- Education
- Decision-making and scoping
- Streamlining complex strategies

Early in her career, Marcie quickly became the indispensable team member who colleagues called on for support with estate planning matters as well as day-to-day office management tasks and mentorship. She continues to be the detail-oriented and devoted person who enjoys finding answers to client challenges. She is appreciated by attorneys, individual clients and companies of all sizes for her ability to collaborate, communicate and find creative solutions for the most sensitive obstacles.
