OVERVIEW

Skilled at honing in on critical details, John assists clients and legal teams with quickly changing regulations in healthcare law.

Individual practitioners, physician groups, ambulatory surgical centers, skilled nursing facilities and large hospital systems are among the healthcare clients relying on John's detail-oriented research and counsel. He is appreciated by clients and collaborative legal teams for asking the right questions in order to efficiently get to the heart of compliance issues in the highly regulated healthcare sector. Matters John handles include:

- Medicaid and Medicare reimbursement
- Licensing
- False Claims Act (FCA)
- Anti-Kickback Statute (AKS)
- Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)

John enjoys working in an area of law where concrete goals translate to value for patient care. He aims to solve problems, develop long-term strategies and create long-lasting working relationships. He understands the healthcare industry is fast-moving and patient care doesn't ever pause. He develops legal solutions for clients accordingly.
