OVERVIEW

Lindy partners with clients to navigate the growth and governance of their business and provides counsel on complex commercial arrangement across industries.

Clients rely on Lindy for guidance on the purchase and sale of businesses—from diligence and documentation through post-closing matters—to keep deals on track and transitions seamless. She advises on M&A transactions for a variety of clients, from sophisticated private equity firms and mature multinational corporations to businesses in highly regulated industries, including food systems, cannabis, and alcohol.

Lindy also works with manufacturers, distributors, and corporate consumers in commercial transactions and business arrangements, including preparing and negotiating commercial contracts to minimize risk, ensure regulatory and internal compliance, and promote clear, efficient relationships with counterparties. Lindy develops practical, repeatable agreements that support clients' operational needs and provide a consistent framework for sustainable, long-term business use.

Having grown up in a family business, Lindy brings a practical, business-minded approach to her work, focusing on efficient solutions that move matters forward without unnecessary legal complexity. When taking on a new matter, she aligns with clients on objectives, takes the lead in navigating the issues, and collaborates closely to deliver results.
