OVERVIEW

Natalie understands the importance of simplifying complexities for clients.

Always one to embrace legal intricacies and challenges, Natalie navigates issues that arise in finance and real estate transactions by finding realistic and practical solutions for clients. She represents lenders, financial institutions, developers and other borrowers in a wide range of complex financing transactions. Natalie focuses her practice on senior secured and unsecured credit facilities, syndicated and bilateral financings, multi-phase development projects, construction real estate loans, and tax credit financing structures.

Through her experience in real estate finance, developers and contractors have requested Natalie's legal advice in all aspects of construction projects. She provides clients with comprehensive transactional services to help them negotiate favorable terms and manage risk.

Prior to entering private practice, Natalie worked as a social worker within Milwaukee County and earned her MBA.
