OVERVIEW

Annorah turns complex legal challenges into strategic opportunities for business growth.

Annorah represents a broad range of public and private clients across diverse industries with a sophisticated transactional practice that spans the full spectrum of corporate and securities law. She regularly advises private equity sponsors and their portfolio companies on mergers and acquisitions, including both buy-side and sell-side transactions, from initial structuring through closing. Her securities practice encompasses public offerings, ongoing reporting and compliance obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and a range of other capital markets and capital-raising activities. She also counsels clients on commercial contracts, ensuring that their business relationships are structured to protect their interests and support their long-term objectives.

With a foundation in economics and business administration, Annorah understands the commercial realities her clients face and approaches each matter with both legal knowledge and strategic business insight. Whether working with emerging companies or established enterprises, Annorah is committed to delivering sophisticated counsel that not only addresses immediate legal needs but also positions clients for sustainable success in an evolving marketplace.
