OVERVIEW

As a seasoned litigator, Previn handles civil litigation matters including designated complex litigation matters, business litigation, trust and fiduciary litigation, and probate.

With over 20 years of experience practicing a diverse range of law, Previn has adeptly managed asset sales along with other corporate transactions. Previn has successfully represented numerous Fortune 500 companies in high-stakes lawsuits and complex litigation, and he has achieved favorable outcomes in both federal and state courts, including appeals. The majority of his cases involve asbestos, other toxic torts, insurance coverage, personal injury, and product liability. Additionally, Previn has managed trust, probate, and fiduciary matters; estate planning; and business succession planning.

Previn finds the processes of litigation and negotiation with opposing counsel stimulating and intellectually rewarding. He particularly enjoys crafting nuanced arguments within the sophisticated field of toxic tort. His extensive legal background enhances his litigation strategies by providing him with a comprehensive understanding of client businesses and their needs. This background helps him understand the role that litigation plays within them.

Known for his approachability and dedication to client communication, Previn excels at demystifying legal jargon. He ensures clients have a thorough understanding of their case's status and potential trajectory. Despite his approachable manner with
