OVERVIEW

Jenn is a senior paralegal who has worked in the toxic tort and asbestos defense industry since 2006.

Jenn's focus is on assisting clients and attorney teams with product and premises liability claims through every stage of litigation from beginning to resolution. Jenn has worked with clients ranging from small family businesses in the St. Louis area to large Fortune 500 companies. Her extensive knowledge of the major asbestos jurisdictions in the Illinois and Missouri bi-state area makes her a valuable asset to any team. She has also recently begun to expand her knowledge by taking on responsibility for asbestos litigation in California, Louisiana, and numerous jurisdictions on the East Coast. She is well versed in drafting pleadings, investigative work, drafting complex reports, and trial preparation. Jenn has also previously worked in helping to defend clients in talcum powder claims, ride-share car accident claims, and diacetyl claims.

Jenn's passion is in collaborating with our clients and internal teams to help get the best outcome possible for our clients.
