OVERVIEW

With a strong background in securities work and capital markets transactions, Andrew advises clients on '34 Act compliance, corporate governance, and general corporate matters. He practices from Miami as a member of our virtual office, The Link.

Andrew draws on more than a decade of experience in securities and capital markets work, with a focus on securities law matters. He represents public companies in a wide variety of industries, advising clients on '34 Act disclosure and reporting obligations, including assisting in the preparation of SEC filings on Forms 10-K, 10-Q, 8-K, and proxy statements, corporate governance matters, NYSE and Nasdaq rule compliance, and Section 16 filings. In addition, Andrew also has extensive experience with capital markets transactions (including underwritten offerings, "at-the-market" programs, registered direct offerings, and Rule 144A transactions) of debt and equity securities, including offerings of common stock, preferred stock, senior notes, convertible notes, exchangeable notes, and green bonds.

What Andrew loves most about his work is the opportunity to collaborate with businesses and management: he's fascinated by the inner workings of client companies and aims to learn as much as possible about each client's business in order to help the business achieve its goals. He knows that clients need attorneys who not only know the law, but who also understand the business of their clients. Andrew offers strategic advice on how best to
