OVERVIEW

Chris is passionate about assisting our private wealth clients with their matters.

As a paralegal assistant, Chris supports paralegals in establishing and maintaining tax and estate files so attorneys can offer proper guidance for clients. He assists in building case management files, handles e-filing of probate matters, and prepares applications for tax identification numbers and irrevocable trust administration forms.

With more than two decades experience in the legal and information governance fields, Chris is familiar with a variety of practice areas. Chris has been with the firm for over 21 years and is very passionate about our clients and helping them secure better future for their families.
