OVERVIEW

Larisa concentrates her legal practice on product liability and transportation matters, with extensive experience representing clients in high-stakes litigation, including cases involving catastrophic injuries and fatalities.

She regularly defends manufacturers, distributors, and transportation companies when they face significant exposure in courts across the country. Larisa is recognized for her ability to navigate the complex technical issues that frequently arise in these cases, and she is adept at developing strategic solutions tailored to each client's unique needs.

In addition to her work in product liability and transportation, Larisa advises clients on a broad range of complex business litigation, including contract disputes and commercial litigation. She helps businesses resolve conflicts efficiently, whether through negotiation, mediation, or trial, always focusing on her clients' best interests and long-term goals.

Larisa's clients value her fearless approach to challenging matters, her strong work ethic, and her commitment to providing practical, results-oriented counsel. She is known for her thorough preparation, attention to detail, and ability to communicate complex legal concepts clearly and effectively. As a trusted advisor and advocate, Larisa is dedicated to helping her clients navigate even the most difficult legal challenges and is an asset to both her clients and her firm.
