OVERVIEW

Rebecca is an experienced paralegal blending legal knowledge with business acumen to drive results.

Since 2010, Rebecca has built a wide-ranging legal career supporting attorneys and clients in both the private and public sectors. She spent five years in civil litigation and workers' compensation on the plaintiff/applicant side, gaining hands-on courtroom experience and a deep understanding of case strategy and client advocacy. She then transitioned into five years of transactional law, where she focused on corporate formation and maintenance, real estate transactions, contracts, and trusts and estates—developing a solid foundation in business law and whole-client focused service.

Over the past five years, Rebecca served in a government legal department, focusing on legal project management. In this role, she managed complex legal projects from inception to resolution, engaging stakeholders, working closely with cross-functional partners to meet organizational goals, improving processes to deliver on tight deadlines, and navigate shifting priorities with creative, solutions-oriented thinking.

Rebecca is known for being hands-on, highly engaged, and anticipatory—often identifying needs before they arise and delivering substantive legal work with professionalism and precision. Her diverse background gives her a robust toolkit and a unique ability to bridge legal knowledge with operational insight.

In addition to her legal work, Rebecca brings years of non-profit experience and has served on multiple boards of directors, where
