

Sean Post

ASSOCIATE

LOS ANGELES, CA

PHONE: 213.356.2984

EMAIL: SEAN.POST@HUSCHBLACKWELL.COM

OVERVIEW

Sean brings a broad range of experience in commercial litigation with a particular focus on complex and high-stakes cases.

Having worked on breach of contract disputes, partnership disputes, toxic tort cases, construction defect claims, real estate litigation, employment law, and class action defense, Sean has developed a versatile skill set that allows him to navigate intricate legal challenges quickly. Sean is especially passionate about class action defense and other multifaceted cases, appreciating the intellectual rigor and extensive research they require.

Sean's client-focused approach defines his legal practice, emphasizing responsiveness, clear communication, and effective results. He takes pride in managing client expectations, ensuring clients understand the legal processes and realistic outcomes of their cases. Sean's ability to serve as an advocate and counselor has earned him the trust and appreciation of clients. Known for his patience and willingness to explain complex legal concepts, Sean is committed to making the legal process accessible and transparent, particularly for clients without a legal background.

Throughout his career, Sean has worked with a variety of clients, from large corporations to individuals, tailoring his strategies to meet their unique needs. His versatility spans employment law, where he has focused on maintaining strong relationships with longstanding clients, to construction defect and real estate cases, where his attention to detail ensures thorough representation.

Sean's ability to balance technical expertise with a personal touch sets him apart. Clients value his thoughtful, communicative nature

Services

Commercial Litigation

Litigation & Alternative Dispute Resolution

and his dedication to providing legal representation, guidance, and reassurance. Sean's ability to build meaningful client relationships and deliver results that align with their goals underscores his effectiveness as a litigator and counselor.

Experience

- Extensive experience in law and motion practice, including researching, drafting, and orally arguing appeals and case-dispositive motions.
- Prepared for and took depositions of over 20 percipient witnesses in a complex multiparty toxic tort case.
- Consistently interfaced with and developed rapport with both individual and corporate clients, becoming the go-to point of contact for clients on multiple files.
- Spearheaded written discovery efforts across cases, including strategy considerations, supplementation, and meet and confer correspondence.
- Experienced in various aspects of commercial litigation, including document review, multiple mediations, and independently managing trial prep and trial for a smaller case.
- Researched, interpreted, and analyzed California state and municipal law pertaining to land use to ensure that company practices were in line with applicable laws.
- Drafted memoranda interpreting the latest developments in case law applying the California Environmental Quality Act.
- Assisted in preparing Environmental Impact Reports and appendices thereto for submittal to jurisdictions, including the City of Los Angeles, Los Angeles County, and the City of Pasadena.
- Represented clients in hearings before city planning commissions to orally advocate for proposed projects.

Education

- J.D., University of California, Los Angeles School of Law
- B.A., Georgetown University

Admissions

- California
- U.S. District Court, Central District of California

Community Leadership

- Mock Trial Coach – Trabuco Hills High School