OVERVIEW

Known for her proactive, calm, and flexible approach, Roxanne is a creative problem solver who consistently delivers high-quality client service.

She comes to the firm with over a decade of experience in civil litigation and white-collar criminal defense at both the federal and state levels. Roxanne excels in managing all aspects of casework, from fact investigation and legal research all the way through to trial. Her meticulous attention to detail and passion for eDiscovery make her a valuable asset to any legal team, as she thrives on analyzing complex data and uncovering critical evidence.

Her ability to juggle competing priorities and foster clear communication between clients, colleagues, and experts ensures cases are handled efficiently and effectively from start to finish.

She now provides paralegal support to the firm's Intellectual Property Litigation team.
