OVERVIEW

Haseeb represents clients in complex commercial litigation.

Haseeb represents clients in a wide range of business disputes in both state and federal courts. From initial pleadings all the way through trial and appeal, Haseeb is comfortable managing litigation at every stage and has handled multimillion-dollar matters with significant financial stakes. He has been actively involved in trial preparation from the beginning of his career, arguing evidentiary and injunction hearings while advocating for individuals, small businesses, and large corporations across a wide range of industries. At present, Haseeb primarily focuses on the defense of major national staffing companies, generally in labor and employment matters, personal injury claims, restrictive covenant disputes, noncompete cases, and other disputes.

Haseeb knows that litigation can be an immensely stressful process, and he aims to bring clients clarity in the midst of uncertainty. He especially values the people side of litigation: Haseeb enjoys building strong connections with clients, judges, and even opposing counsel, helping him reach faster resolutions. In fact, he'd describe his favorite part of his job as simply collaborating with a team to strategize through a complex case, partnering with clients and other attorneys to find the best angles and solutions.

With experience representing both defendants and plaintiffs—including individuals who have sued corporations—Haseeb is well-placed to anticipate the strategies and approaches used by plaintiff attorneys adverse to firm clients. He's also known for his sincere and charismatic nature, his clear and direct communication style, and his ability to make complex issues readily understandable for clients, juries, and judges.
