OVERVIEW

Sara focuses on private wealth and estate planning, helping clients make informed decisions to protect their assets and secure their loved ones' futures.

Sara decided to attend law school out of a desire to guide people through the legal system when they face uncertainty. A commitment to supporting others in challenging times has shaped every step of her career.

Estate planning stood out as a practice area because it combines legal knowledge with direct, meaningful client interaction. Sara values the opportunity to assist clients with important matters and to build long-term relationships as a trusted advisor.

As a law student, Sara enjoyed estate planning coursework, especially the aspects that emphasized working closely with clients. She gained further experience as a law clerk, drafting estate planning documents and attending client meetings. As a summer associate at Husch Blackwell, Sara worked on real estate, commercial litigation, and private wealth projects, including drafting wills, trusts, and powers of attorney.

Prior to law school, Sara worked as a paralegal at a firm specializing in estate planning, probate, and trust administration. This experience provided a foundation in drafting estate planning documents, handling all aspects of probate, and communicating with clients to ensure their wishes were clearly understood and carried out.
