Husch Blackwell Listed Among Largest U.S. Healthcare Firms by Two Industry Organizations

Husch Blackwell's healthcare law practice was recently recognized as one of the largest in the nation by two well-respected industry healthcare entities.

The firm's healthcare practice was ranked seventh-largest in the nation by the American Health Lawyers Association (AHLA). Using different measurements, the national publication Modern Healthcare positioned Husch Blackwell's healthcare practice as 22nd-largest in the nation.

All of Husch Blackwell's more than 100 Healthcare attorneys are members of AHLA, the nation's largest nonpartisan, 501(c)3 educational organization devoted to legal issues in the healthcare field. Husch Blackwell is one of only seven firms nationwide to have attorneys enrolled in all 16 of AHLA's practice groups.

"As an 'industry-first' firm, we are committed to leveraging the depth of our expertise in healthcare on behalf of our clients," said Curt J. Chase, partner and leader of the firm's Healthcare, Life Sciences & Education practice.

Husch Blackwell healthcare attorneys have extensive experience representing clients in all types of transactional, litigation, regulatory enforcement actions and investigations covering all facets of the industry. The firm represents leading hospitals and health systems, academic medical centers, post-acute centers, rural health providers, physicians and other healthcare providers; life sciences investors and research facilities; and pharmacies, prescription drug benefit managers, drug manufacturers and other stakeholders in the supply chain.
