Husch Blackwell's Private Wealth Group Adds Attorney in St. Louis

Husch Blackwell welcomes Associate Daniel Lawder to its St. Louis, Mo., office. He joins the firm's Private Wealth team.

Prior to joining the firm, Lawder served as a judicial law clerk for the Hon. Scott Hill-Kennedy and the Hon. Ronald Nichols of the 49th Circuit Court of Michigan.

Lawder received his J.D. from the University of Michigan Law School (2013), where he was a contributing editor for the Michigan Journal of Law Reform and served as a student attorney for the school's Pediatric Advocacy Clinic. Lawder received his B.A., magna cum laude, from Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn. (2009).

Husch Blackwell's Private Wealth team serves a wide range of clients, from moderate-sized estates to high net-worth families, executives of Fortune 500 companies, entertainers and sports figures. The team also advises donors on the creation and operation of public and private foundations, supporting organizations and charitable trusts, and counsels nonprofit and charitable organizations about tax and regulatory compliance and effective operation.
