Husch Blackwell's Retail Team Recognized as Industry "Influencer"

Real Estate Forum magazine recognized Husch Blackwell's Retail practice group among its "Influencers in Retail" in its May 2019 issue.

The "Influencers in Retail" series recognizes the "people and firms that have made a mark in the retail community." Real Estate Forum honored 21 firms and individuals as 2019 Influencers.

Husch Blackwell's Retail practice group was honored in part for the creation in 2017 of its Retail Institute, a kind of internal think-tank dedicated to partnering with leaders from across the retail industry to create shareable knowledge.

"The 'new world of retail' isn't coming—it's already here," said Stacy Engles Wipfler, the head of Husch Blackwell's Retail Institute. "It's exciting to be able to bring together so many industry leaders and legal experts through the Retail Institute to help our clients maneuver and grow in this new environment."

Real Estate Forum publishes nine times a year and is a property of ALM, the publisher of The American Lawyer, Corporate Counsel and GlobeSt.com.
