

Husch Blackwell’s Public Law team advises local governments, elected and appointed officials, and businesses on complicated matters of public law. Our law firm draws on our industry experience, skilled advocacy, and political relationships to assist clients with government-related projects and disputes from beginning to end.

Our public law team understands the political complexities of representing the government and those who do business with the government. Our innovative solutions respect those realities while advancing client interests effectively and efficiently.

Case Study

Harris County Sports & Convention Corporation

Harris County—the largest county in Texas and third-largest county in the U.S.—recently embarked on a monumental Climate Action Plan aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions by 40% by 2030. A significant step in the plan concerned upgrades to county facilities, including NRG Park, a 350-acre sports and entertainment complex housing NRG Stadium, home of the Houston Rodeo and the NFL’s Houston Texans and hosting over 500 events and 5.5 million people annually. The county leases NRG Park to Harris County Sports & Convention Corporation (HCSCC), which operates as NRG Park’s landlord. Celebrating its 20th anniversary this year and in need of upgrades to the park’s central plant; building automation systems; and controls, water conservation, lighting, and life safety systems, HCSCC

“It’s been a true blessing to have the capabilities of Husch Blackwell in times when we’ve really needed it... I can’t tell you how much I’ve appreciated that because I have seen the fruits of the labor. One of the best things I think we’ve ever done on this board was bring in the Husch team.”
