

PHARMACY

The Pharmacy practice team at Husch Blackwell is comprised of industry professionals ready to help you take your financial and business goals to the next level. Whether you're already in the pharmaceutical market, want to implement a specialty pharmacy within your existing institution, or build a pharmacy from the ground up, our pharmaceutical law team will guide and advise you every step of the way.

With a trend toward patient care from start to finish, implementing a specialty pharmacy within your institution is a way to lower readmission rates while ensuring the best possible outcomes for your patients, and make money in the process. In addition to independent, large, manufacturer- and hospital-owned pharmacies, as well as 340B covered entities, our pharmaceutical law clients include:

Specialty drug manufacturers and distributors

Group purchasing organizations (GPOs)

Pharmacy licensure and credentialing

Pharma services companies (such as reimbursement hubs, financial assistance providers, and co-pay card companies)

Our PBM attorney team also advises pharmacy benefit managers (PBMs) on compliance matters, network provider contracting, and policy drafting. We structure and negotiate PBM rebate arrangements and pharmacy arrangements with pharmaceutical manufacturers to ensure compliance with applicable fraud and abuse laws. We also advocate for clients in lawsuits and

I very much appreciate the counsel and support we received from the entire Husch Blackwell team. We simply could not have completed this transaction without the expertise, experience and guidance of the 'deal team' at Husch. These outstanding attorneys provide excellent, accurate and timely client service and we would happily recommend all of them to anyone who needed counsel in connection with a healthcare transaction.
